The Archibald Prize is the most important prize for portraits in Australia, first awarded in 1921. The money for the prize was left by J.F. Archibald, editor of The Bulletin magazine who died in 1919. The prize is awarded by the Trustees of the Art Gallery of New South Wales.

The Archibald is awarded annually to the best portrait, preferentially of some man or woman distinguished in art, letters, science and politics, painted by any artist resident in Australasia. Finalists are displayed in an exhibition at the NSW Art Gallery. Which will be your favourite?
